

Acknowledgements

The success of Excellerated is the product of working with countless successful, organized and productive individuals and organizations through North America, Asia, Australia, New Zealand and Europe.

We are forever grateful to the many that have provided us their teachings, their investment in time, energy, and money, and most importantly, their love and support in our endeavors. They have each touched our lives and contributed to us so that we can continue to fulfill our life purposes.

Though this is a long list – and we apologize to anyone we may have left out who belongs in it – we thank you for your contribution – without you, this work would have continued for nearly three decades!

First, the participants of all of the Excellerated programs, the Logistics and Support team members since the beginning.
